

DRUG CALLED LONELINESS

Words & music: Lasse Forsberg, Sandviken November 1991.

First live performance: 9 October 1992, Stockholm, Tre Backar.

Intro & outro

D / G /
D / G /
D G D A
D A G D

D / G A
Got from heaven to hell as I fell out of bed

D G D
In my room at the end of the world

D / G A
Took a pummeling shower, wrapped a Spiderman towel
D G D
Round my heart as my whole day got purled

G D
And I heard a sigh from an angel inside

F#m G A
Fading away into emptiness

D A
And the more that I love you

G A D G D
The more you will push of this drug called loneliness

Was aspiring last night as I turned out the light
Just to see you somewhere in a dream
Walked the streets of sheer gold then I was back in the cold
Where the silence turns a whisper to a scream

Still I heard a sigh from an angel inside

Fading away into emptiness

And the more that I love you

The more I inject of this drug called loneliness

I walked into a bar to go down in a jar
Ended up drowning in a sigh
Left the God-blasted place with a smile on my face
Watched two unlucky stars in the sky

And two lovers entwined passing me by
Walking home from pleasure to ease
And the cold lights of midnight... turned to a morning breeze

And I heard a sigh from an angel inside

Fading away into emptiness

And the more that I love you

The more I go down with this drug called loneliness